Your Life Story: Written by You, Kept Safe by Us

Because the best stories deserve a happy ending, and a very good lock.

Your life has plot twists, plenty of heroes (hello, Grandma's pie recipe), and a few chapters the family still argues about. It deserves to be a book. Autobiography Publishing will edit, design, print, and share your story, and you hold the pen, the keys, and the final say.

Your Story Matters (and Your Grandkids Want the Gossip)

Every family has legends. The great-aunt who danced on tables. The road trip that took 3 extra days. The lesson you learned the hard way, so they don't have to.

- Leave a Legacy: Hand your family the gift of your story, in your own words and your own voice.
- Choose Your Readers: Keep it in the family circle or share it with the wider world. Your guest list, your rules.
- Preserve Your History: Memories fade. Books don't. Capture the people, places, and punchlines that made you you.

You're the Author. You're Also the Boss.

- You Own It: You keep all rights to your book. Every last one.
- Private by Choice: Family-only or open to everyone? Pick one, and change your mind whenever you like.
- Locked Up Tight: Your manuscript, photos, and personal details stay under wraps, safe from nosy strangers.
- Forever a Work in Progress: Add a new chapter, fix a date, swap in a better photo. Your online edition keeps up with your life.
- Delete Button Included: Want a passage gone or the whole book offline? Done. No questions asked.

Publishing in 5 Easy Steps

Finished manuscript? Half-written notebook? A shoebox of memories? We'll meet you wherever you are. Most publishers read less than 1% of manuscripts. We read every autobiography submission, free of charge.

1. Send Us Your Story

Submit your manuscript. Nervous? Totally normal.

2. Get the Good News

Once your manuscript is accepted, the real fun begins.

3. Meet Your Personal Coordinator

Your own guide, with patience, kindness, and a respect for your privacy that borders on obsessive.

4. We Sweat the Small Stuff

Copyediting, proofreading, typesetting, eBook conversion, cover design, and marketing: we do it all, and nothing moves forward without your okay.

5. You're a Published Author!

You keep all rights. We handle distribution and royalties. You get to say, "Yes, I wrote a book."

Our Commitments: Privacy, Security, and Your Rights

Accuracy of Our Commitments

Each commitment below reflects the services Page Publishing Autobiography provides. Our privacy and security practices are documented in our [Privacy Policy and Terms of Service, link] and are reviewed [annually / on a stated schedule] to ensure continued accuracy.

Security Safeguards

Author materials, including manuscripts, photographs, and personal information, are protected through the following measures:

- Encryption of data in transit and at rest [confirm standard, e.g., TLS 1.2+ and AES-256]
- Role-based access, limiting file access to personnel assigned to the author's project
- Secure, access-controlled online editions [confirm: password protection, private link, or invitation-only viewing]
- Confidentiality obligations binding all staff and third-party vendors who handle author materials

Author Rights and Control

- The author retains all rights to the work, as stated in the publishing agreement.
- The author may select, and subsequently modify, the visibility of the online edition: family-only, invited readers, or public.
- The author may request updates, corrections, or additions to the online edition at any time [state turnaround time].
- The author may request removal of specific content or withdrawal of the online edition entirely [state process and timeframe, and note any limits for printed copies already distributed].

Free Manuscript Review

Every autobiography submission is reviewed at no cost to the author, with no obligation to proceed.
